Multiple rounds while matched with the same 13 people. Each player will choose a number between 0.00 and 100.00 and you cannot see the other player’s choices until the end of the round. The numbers selected by all players will be averaged. The average will then be split in half. The player who’s choice is closest to the split number wins earnings, while the other 13 players earn nothing.